

Michael Fugler Interviewed on ABC Channel 3 News, Pensacola, Florida

Perdido Key, FL (PRBuzz.com) September 7, 2012 -- Michael Fugler, two time President of Palacio Owners Association, current Board Member and original member of Perdido Key Planning Committee, was interviewed by ABC Channel 3 News, Pensacola, Florida regarding the beach restoration project.

In the interview, Mr. Fugler stated:

"I feel you need to cooperate with the local county officials and give them rights of access to handle beach damage but they must be held accountable to perform as represented and only when really necessary. I think that the right of access should be for limited terms of time so that the obligation of accountability continues and the county remains transparent with its actions."

"Before you let people get on the property and start doing restoration, you have to give it a reasonable amount of time to see whether or not the beach loss returns, because it often does. The other issue is cost, who is paying, the county or the federal government and whether the restoration is for a short term fix or long term solution. Spending County funds needs to be prudently applied."

Reporter Anthony Pura stated, "That's Michael Fugler's take on the restoration idea. His condo association signed the county's easement request but he remains skeptical. Especially if the county feels work is needed after Isaac."

"Things looked very similar. I think that you would have to go out there with a tape measure to see there was some significant loss," Fugler said. "I am all for restoration when needed but I would like to hear from the country their basis for determining that it is necessary and then be able to hold them accountable for their representations and work product."
